FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

Holland's Queen at Fifteen.

The young queen of the Netherlands is very rapidly passing out of childhood and becoming a young lady. She will be 15 on the 81st of August, and it will require only three years more to make her so much of a woman that, were she an American, it would be time for her to "come out," have a big tea and meet all her mother's friends, and then start on a round of assemblies and patriarchs. As it is, she will proably have enough to employ all her time.

Queen Wilhelmina is a well grown girl, fair and rosy, with a democratio enthusiasm for sport and romping games. Her regimen of life is as simple as that of many young women whose worldly position is not nearly so high and far simpler than that of the Amerfcan children of millionaire parents. She will gain every promised virtue that comes to those whose habit "early to bed and early to rise," for ane is at her lessons by half past 8 every morning. After three hours of study comes play with her dogs or pigeous or a drive behind her beloved white ponies. Two mere hours of study come after luncheon, and then more play in the open air when the weather is good. Dinner comes at half past 6, when Wilhelmina dines usually alone with her mother, and bed is not long after dinner. Wilhelmina has grown up in the atmosphere of the bourgeois Dutch court to feel thoroughly Dutch in spirit and sympathies, and the costume in which the picture shows her is that of a peasant farmer's wife. On of her favorite costumes in which she has never been photographed, is her uniform as a colonel of the Second regiment of Westphalian cavalry, to which the German emperor appointed her two years ago.

Dorothy at the Wedding. Little Miss Dorothy Drew, Mr. Gladstone's favorite granddaughter, has been interviewed on her experiences as one of the bridesmaids at Miss Margot Tennant's wedding.

Dorothy, or "Dossie," as she is called, said: "Yes, I went to Margot's wedding. I was one of Margot's little maids, and I wore a rosy bonnet and a white satin honor in Kansas. frock, with lace on it." "Miss Tennant was your godmother, was she not?"

"Was she? Well, she doesn't look like it, does she? She gave me this beautiful brooch for the wedding. You may just look at it, but I cannot have you take it off, because it is my own. After the woodling I went to Margot's house and had strawberries and sponge cake and a slice of peach." "No," interrupted the nurse; "I do not think you had peach." "Oh, yes, I am very sure I had.

Very likely it was before you came." "And were you very good at the wedding?" "Yes, because I had on my pearl cross, and that made me be good."

"Did the church look beautiful, and did you like the singing?" "They did not give me a paper, so I couldn't sing, but the big bridesmaids had books. I wish they had had 'Onward, Christian Soldiers, because I know that," and here Miss Dorothy started to sing this hymn in the prettiest treble possible.

Sunshine and Rain. "All sunshine makes the desert" is an old Arab proverb. It would be well to remember this when a downfall of rain prevents some picnic or other enjoyable excursion that you have planned, for the very rain that you for the time find so annoying may help to make some desert place to bloom and be fresh. The sun never goes away for a very long vacation. He only slips behind the clouds to rest, and there are sure to be plenty of bright days before school takes up again. Think of this and smile in spite of postponed picnics. -- St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Two Little Turtles. Two little turtles on a rock Watching the sun arise, Snapping a meag-r breakfast up Of drowsy morning flies.

One fly more luscious than the rest Goes slowly flying past; One turtle stretches out his neck And gains the prize at last. But reaching over in his haste

He makes too hard a dash, And falling head first in the lake The turtle goes-kersplash!

Little Dot-I wish my doll didn't have such red cheeks and such a round

Mamma-She is very pretty. Little Dot-Yes, but when I play she s awful sick an mos' dyin; she always looks so fat an healthy I can't feel wortied over her a bit .-- Good News.
